2005 Clean Fuels Challenge: Exhibit Prospectus

What is the Clean Fuels Challenge?

This biennial meeting focuses on the challenges of producing low-sulfur fuels to meet federal standards that will be implemented from 2004 to 2010. The 2005 meeting will focus on refiners' experiences starting up and operating hydrotreaters and other operations that produce low-sulfur gasoline and diesel fuels and apply those lessons learned to future challenges. The meeting format offers a keynote address, workshops, discussion groups, and a Q&A session on refining technology and reliability where experts share valuable insights.

The meeting will also include a tabletop exhibition for companies that supply catalysts, process technology, maintenance services, and equipment to produce ultra low-sulfur fuels and to improve plant reliability. All registrants, whether from operating companies or supplier/vendor companies, are invited to attend and participate in all sessions.

This meeting is for the Operations, Maintenance, and Engineering managers, supervisors, and planners that will have to design and operate refineries in the new, low-sulfur environment.

Who is NPRA?

NPRA, the National Petrochemical & Refiners Association, has the honor of being the oldest trade association to serve the oil industry. Formed in 1902 with the merger of the National Petroleum Association and the Western Petroleum Association, the National Petroleum Refiners Association served the petroleum refining and petrochemical manufacturing industries for the last 100 years with pride. NPRA is now known as the National Petrochemical & Refiners Association, a name which, while rooted in the heritage of the Association, reflects the true make-up of the membership and highlights the increasing interdependence of the refining and petrochemical industries that we represent.

NPRA represents 102 regular member companies, encompassing nearly all of the petroleum refiners and petrochemical manufacturers in the United States. Membership also consists of international refining and manufacturing entities, as well as domestic and foreign companies which have special interests in petroleum refining and petrochemical manufacturing, while not operating the refineries or facilities themselves.

After space is assigned, a confirmation will be sent to the exhibitor with tabletop assignment. The NPRA reserves the right to make necessary changes in assigned tabletop locations for the benefit of exhibitors and the improvement of the entire meeting.

Display Information

Tabletops should consist of very simple displays. Elaborate demonstrations will not be possible. Electrical services will be available at a cost to the exhibitor. Appropriate order forms will be sent with the confirmation. Security will be provided, but valuable equipment such as laptops should be removed from the tabletop area when the displays are not open. NPRA will provide:

Prior to and including June 30, 2005, priority for assigning space will be determined by NPRA membership and number of previous years of participation in the tabletops. After June 30, 2005, space will be assigned on a first-come, space available basis.

NPRA reserves the right to change space assignment if, in NPRA's judgment, it becomes necessary to do so.

Payments and Cancellations

In applying for space, the exhibitor must pay the full cost of the space with the application. A full refund will be made if space is not available. Refunds for cancellations will be made only if the space can be resold, according to the following schedule: By July 1, 2005 - full refund; by July 8 - 90% of space rental fee; by July 15 - 75%; by July 29 - 50%; after July 29 - 0% of space rental fee. Cancellations must be made in writing and forwarded to Tara Divine at fax number: 202.835.0467 or email: tdivine@npra.org.

Space and Equipment

The space will include 1, 8' x 30" skirted table, 1 chair, and 1, 7" x 44" table sign with tabletop number. All other display materials will be provided by participant at his/her own expense.

Default of Occupancy

- If by 11:00 am on Tuesday, August 9, 2005, an exhibitor fails to register and occupy any space contracted for but not canceled in writing to NPRA, NPRA shall have the right to use said space to suit its own convenience, including selling the space to another exhibitor, without any rebate or allowance to the defaulting exhibitor.
- If the display material has been delivered to the table but has not been assembled, NPRA reserves the right to remove the material and place it in storage.
- NPRA assumes no responsibility for having included the name of the defaulting exhibitor or descriptions of that exhibitor's products in the show brochures, news releases, or other materials.

Rules and Regulations

Exhibitors will abide by all other provisions of said rules and regulations and with fire regulations and all other regulations of governmental agencies and the Westin Galleria Hotel.

Objectionable Material and Activities

NPRA reserves the right to require modification of any tabletop it deems questionable for any reason. Raffles, drawings, fishbowls, contests or similar activities are not permitted (see tabletop conduct and activities on next page).

Handling and Storage

- Shipment should be minimal due to simple nature of display.
- The exhibitor will make his/her own arrangements for delivery and receipt of shipment and storage of crates before move-in time. The arrangements may be made, if desired, through the official drayer, The Freeman Companies.
- To facilitate the handling of crates and other freight upon arrival at the Westin Galleria Hotel, the participant will provide copies of bill of lading to official drayer, but this will not place the participant under obligation to said official drayer for services unless participant so desires. The hotel does not accept advance freight shipments.

Liabilities and Insurance

- The exhibitor, by entering into this contract, hereby waives any claim against and shall indemnify, save and hold harmless NPRA, the Westin Galleria Hotel, its agents and employees for any damages or injuries to property or persons occasioned by or in connection with the conference unless caused by the willful misconduct of NPRA, the Westin Galleria Hotel, its agents or employees.
- Exhibitor agrees to maintain such insurance that will fully protect NPRA and the Westin Galleria Hotel from any claims of any nature, including claims under the Workmen's Compensation Act, and for damages for personal injury, including death, which may arise in connection with the presence and/or operation of participant's display. In the event the exhibitor damages the building, or any part thereof, he agrees to reimburse the owner of the building for the cost of repairing such damages to said building, or any part thereof, directly or indirectly.
- NPRA will not be liable for failure to hold the seminar as scheduled. Payments for tabletop space will be returned in that event, less the exhibitor's pro-rata share of all costs and expenses incurred and committed by the NPRA.
- The exhibitor hereby consents to the jurisdiction of the courts of the District of Columbia with respect to any right of action arising under this contract.

Admission

- NPRA will have sole control over admission of all persons. All persons visiting the tabletops will be admitted according to the rules and regulations of the conference as issued or amended by the authorized representative of NPRA.
