In an attempt to offer different companies the opportunity to sponsor preferred items, we have implemented a new policy for sponsorships in 2009. First right of refusal privileges will be offered for a maximum of two consecutive years to a sponsoring company for the same sponsorship item. In the event that no new sponsors are interested in any given sponsorship, NPRA reserves the right to again offer the sponsorship to the previous year’s sponsor, regardless of length of consecutive years of sponsorship of the item.
